

WMATA 2010 Service Evaluation Study 2010

Quick Facts

What is the 2010 Service Evaluation Study?

The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority (WMATA) is conducting a 2010 Service Evaluation Study to examine several Metrobus routes in order to recommend changes that address the strategic needs and problems identified. The study involves the following routes:

Route	Line Name	Operating Area
B2	Bladensburg Road-Anacostia Line	Mt. Rainier to Anacostia
D12/13/14	Oxon Hill-Suitland Line	Suitland Station to Southern Avenue Station via Oxon Hill
23A/C	McLean-Crystal City Line	Tysons Corner to Crystal City via McLean, Ballston and Shirlington
25A/C/D	Ballston-Bradlee-Pentagon Line	Ballston to the Pentagon via Bradlee, and Shirlington

What is the Study Schedule?

The study started in June 2010 and is expected to be finalized by the end of the year.

What will be the result of the Study?

The 2010 WMATA Service Evaluation Study will result in recommendations for improved service and more efficient bus operations. Information gathered from public meetings, the project website, bus supervisors and operators, jurisdictional partners, and service planners will be used to develop and refine recommendations for each route. Upon completion of the study, WMATA will determine the priority of implementing the recommendations based on community needs, available resources, and other factors.
